INDIANS TRIUMPH OVER STRONG ROANOKE ELEVEN

W. & M. Pays Tribute To Hero Dead

Short and impressive ceremonies were held in the Chapel Saturday, November 11, in memory of those who died in the service of the Great War. Charles A. Duke, President of the William and Mary Post of the American Legion, presided at the meeting.

The ceremonies began with Dr. H. E. Bennett as the first speaker. He traced the movements of the "Sight Seeing Sixth" to show the spirit of the American army "Let's go!" This was not only a phrase originating with our Doughboys, but it was the embodiment of their spirit. He called attention to the predictions that we should have a military party after the war and pointed to the American Legion as the fulfillment. Dr. Bennett closed his remarks with the following: "Armistice Day should bring us to a fuller realization of the courage, the unselfishness, and the value of our youth."

The next speaker, Dr. D. W. Davis, addressed his remarks especially to the members of the American Legion and those who are eligible for membership. He said that many had feared the power of such an organization, believing that it would tend to militarism. "This," he said, "could be answered by stating the ideals of the organization as contained in the preamble of its constitution."

Dr. C. C. Fitchner, in the course of his address, took the point of view of our allies. He suggested that we make Armistice Day a day for recalling the friendships that existed among the countries who were banded together against the German war machine. Their efforts helped to win the struggle, especially those of the French, whose strategy won the First and Second Battle of the Marne. He also emphasized that those who became acclimated to French customs learned to like the people.

"The charge that the people of France are imperialists and obstructionists," continued Dr. Fletcher, "is due to misinformation and misrepresentation."

Group Teams Will Fight For Honors In Relay Carnival

Coach Jones Plans Big Relay Carnival

A relay carnival will be staged on Cary Field, November 23, at 4:30 P. M. This event is merely an aspect of Mr. L. Tucker Jones' efforts to arouse interest in mass athletics. He plans to have every student participate in some branch of athletics by the end of the present school year.

The first event will be a relay between the men's gymnasium classes, the team being composed of four contestants and one substitute. The distance will be one hundred and eighty yards. In the second event the women's gymnasium classes will battle for supremacy, the distance being ninety yards.

Teams from Tyler Hall and Jefferson Hall will run the third relay. The boys of Boundary, Ewell, Taliaferro, and Institute Dormitories will run the fourth relay. Following this will be the inter-sorority relay, and the sixth and final race will be the interfraternity relay.

All captains are requested to report to Mr. Seisman at the Jefferson Gym. office by Saturday noon, with a list of their entries.

"Duc" Basketball League Announced By Coach Jones

Coach L. T. Jones, of Physical Education, announces the formation of a "Duc" basketball league. All students are invited to witness the contests which will be held at 5 P. M. in the Jefferson Hall Gymnasium. Mr. Lionel Levy will referee the game.

H. J. Lewis
Samuel C. Woolvin

Minus the five suspended regulars, the crippled Indians outplayed the Roanoke College Maroons at every stage of the game last Saturday, and won easily by a 14-0 score.

Several costly fumbles by the William and Mary backs cost the Indians at least two more scores. At no time did Roanoke threaten the Indian goal, the play being well in Roanoke territory all the game.

Roanoke, with a line weighing 196 pounds from tackle to tackle, could rush over only three first downs by line playing.

Saturday's results cleared up considerable gloom around the Indian camp when Cofer and Williams, former substitutes, who were brought over to fill the shoes of suspended men, made good with a rush.

Williams, at end, threw Roanoke runners for repeated losses, and Cofer was largely responsible for the second Indian score. The outstanding stars were Quarter Back and Acting Captain George Flanders and "Doc" Rangle, guard on the local eleven. Rangle smashed his way through the Maroon forwards as through so much paper, blocking five forward passes and one kick. "Doc" also recovered a Roanoke fumble for the first Indian touchdown. Flanders played the best game of his career, running the team and lugging the ball superbly. Potter and Couk played best for the losers.

Indians Score On Break

After several exchanges of punts, White got off a good one to the twenty-yard line and John Todd downed the Maroon runner in his tracks. Failing to gain after three attempts at the line, Couk dropped backed to kick. When he fumbled momentarily, big "Doc" Rangle pounced on the oval as it bounded over the goal line. Flanders kicked the extra point.

Score on Straight Football

The second touchdown came in the first few minutes of the second

THANKSGIVING ISSUE OF FLAT HAT TO APPEAR NOV. 28th

The Flat Hat will not appear on Friday, November 24th, as scheduled. It is the purpose of the Staff to have a special issue, the Thanksgiving issue, on November 28th. Special features will be run.

ALUMNI, MEET US IN RICHMOND

Phoenix Literary Society Selects Freshmen Contestants

The Phoenix Literary Society held its preliminaries for the Freshman Contest last Friday and Saturday evenings. Messrs. Lawson and Ferebee were chosen to represent the Society in debate and W. B. Rush was chosen to represent the Philomatheans in the reading. H. V. Ramsey will uphold the Phoenician standards in declamation. An orator has not yet been selected.

J. Swanson Smith, President of the Phoenix Society, firmly believes that his "Ducs" will come back with the coveted banner over which the freshmen of two societies have a literary battle each year.

The banner, which bears the inscription: "PHOENIX VS. PHILOMATHEAN," now hangs in the Philomathean hall. It has remained there for three years, but the men at the other end of the College hall are determined that it must come back to the Phoenix to stay an equal length of time.

Advance In Literary Society Work

Those who are closely affiliated with either of the literary societies are no doubt aware of the advance they have made in the last two years; but it is felt that those who do not frequent the societies should be advised of the conditions.

Two or three years ago the societies were practically dead. The number on roll was few enough, and if a dozen of that number were present at a meeting it was something unusual. The programs dragged and frequently several of the speakers were absent.

Today the societies are far from perfect organizations, the more the pity. Their membership does not constitute a large percentage of the student body. Yet the societies are awake. Their members have increased until the halls with their present number of seats will scarcely accommodate them. But more than this, their members are active. At every meeting there is present a program which it is well worth the time of any student to listen to. Furthermore, the programs no longer drag. Long discourses are disapproved; short, snappy talks are urged.

A Unique Student

William Cullen Bryant Kemp can truly call himself a unique student. Mr. Kemp, who is past fifty years old, has been a student at Columbia University for many years.

When a boy, Mr. Kemp would not study. An uncle, attempting to stimulate him, provided a sum in his will to keep Mr. Kemp in some institution of learning. When his uncle died, Mr. Kemp entered college and has remained in one to the present time. He has an enviable number of degrees.

When asked to comment on his observations after so many years of student life, Mr. Kemp's only remark was, "The more you study, the more you know."

Alpha Club Gives Tea To Members

Club Will Not Take In Freshmen This Year

The Alpha Club gave a tea to its members at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Henderson, at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon, November 16th. The Club's program for the year was discussed which included the taking in of new members and plans for a tea to be given to the upper-classmen. It was decided that no freshmen would be taken in this year.

The Alpha Club is the first honorary women's club that appeared on the campus. It was founded in 1918 by thirteen of the first women student sat the College, and the membership is limited to thirty. The present members are: Dorothy Terrill, Suzanne Garrett, Anita Rucker, Etta Henderson, Petticolas Lee, Charlotte Shipman, Betty Sue Jessup, Frances Gibbons, Mabel Stratton, Elizabeth Kent, Anna Belle Dennis, Emily Hall, Betty Woodward, Anna Haile, Martha Barksdale, Amelia Walker, and Margaret Tuthill.

Clayton-Grimes Biology Club Meets

The Clayton-Grimes Biology Club met last Monday night in the Physics Lecture Room of the Science Hall. During the business session, the Club voted to pay the expenses of the delegate which the Club will send to the convention of Virginia Biologists which will be held in Richmond. Mr. L. M. Dickerson was elected as delegate of the Club this year.

Another important feature of the business meeting was a discussion of what a State Academy of Science should be by Dr. D. W. Davis and Dr. P. M. Warren. Resolutions were passed favoring the establishment of such an Academy in Virginia.

Edith Baer Club Hold Second Regular Meeting of Year

All Students of Home Economics Are Invited To Its Meetings

The second regular meeting of the Edith Baer Club was held Tuesday night, November 14.

There was no programme on account of the illness of Miss Mavis Magee, the Chairman of the Programme Committee.

Discussion and plans were made for a bazaar to be held in Tyler Hall the first week in December.

Miss Cathryne Bradford was appointed temporary Chairman of the programme committee, and Miss Ida Mae Sweeney was elected Chairman of the Entertainment Committee.

The Club invites all girls taking Home Economics or all those who have ever taken any classes in Home Economics to become members of this Club or to come to the meetings held the second Tuesday in every month.

DR. R. C. YOUNG LECTURES ON RADIO AT WILLIAMSBURG H. S.

Dr. R. C. Young, of the College of William and Mary, gave an illustrated lecture on the "Radio" in the Williamsburg High School auditorium. Several students of the College and of the High School attended the lecture.

Dr. Young discussed the subject from a scientific point of view as his introduction to the use of the Radio, and with the aid of the stereopticon showed some diagrams of connections. He also showed the audience some experiments to illustrate the theory of resonance, the generation of high voltage by induction coils and static machines, and the production of musical notes by the thermionic tube.

Indians Battle Gallaudet at Newport News To-morrow

LARGE CROWD EXPECTED TO WITNESS W. & M.'S BID FOR PENINSULA'S FAVOR

With practically the same team that defeated the powerful Maroon eleven last Saturday, the Indians will enter the game tomorrow determined to regain the favor that the Newport News fans lavished in vain on the William and Mary grid-warriors in '20 and '21.

William and Mary's exhibition against Catholic University at Newport News is still a sore spot with the local team, and the team that scored on Penn State and V. P. I. and humbled Trinity, Wake Forest, Roanoke, Hampden-Sidney, and Randolph-Macon, accepts the responsibility left it by the past years varsity and will make every effort to bring back the lost prestige.

There are no serious injuries on the squad and the strength exhibited last Saturday goes to Newport News with the result of a week of hard scrimmage and signal drill. Fumbling, the one unfortunate aspect of the Roanoke game, has been lacking in the past few day's work-outs. The Indian backfield has absorbed its new members and now presents a set of backs that is about as dangerous as the one prior to the breaking up of the old backfield machine as a result of suspensions.

A large number of students will attend the game and cheer the Indians on to victory. By a special arrangement with the C. & O. officials, it will be possible to get back to Williamsburg Saturday evening on the local train.

The alumni on the Peninsula are backing the Indians in every possible way and everything points to a great day for William and Mary. The Newport News alumni will give a dinner after the game, with the football squad and coaching staff as honor guests, at the Hotel Warwick.

Hold Fall Track Preliminaries

Some good track material was brought to light in last Friday's preliminaries. The work of three freshmen, Hooff, Purdue, and Wells, was highly pleasing to Coach Jones. The results by events were as follows:

100 yard dash: Hooff, Purdue, and Moss. Time, 10:4.

220 yard dash: Hooff, Purdue, and Winder. Time, 25 sec.

Shot put: Todd, 35 ft. 8 in. Rangley, 34 ft. 10 in. Charles, 31:11.

High jump: Hicks, 5 ft. 5 in. Durham, 5 ft. 2½. Lash, 5 ft. 2 in.

Broad Jump: Hicks, 18 ft. 6 in. Huff, 17 ft. 6 in. Wesson, 17 ft 4 in.

Half mile: Wells, first; Van Lear, second; Binder, third.

Here And There

* * *

The Richmond Collegian announces that the Spider Alumni plan a grand "Home Coming" Thanksgiving Day. They have reserved the lower floor of the Academy of Music for the performance that is to be given that evening, "The Passing Show," which comes fresh from a successful run at the Winter Garden, New York.

The Academy will be decorated with the colors of the U. of R. and W. & M. C.

The football teams of the two colleges will be honor guests in the boxes.

Reduced rates over the C. & O. Railroad have been secured for the Thanksgiving classic.

* * *

The excellent playing of Cofer and Williams Saturday was especially gratifying, relieving the Coach of considerable anxiety. Coach Ingram says that he is entirely satisfied with their work.

* * *

"Doc" Rangley gave a wonderful exhibition of both offensive and defensive line playing against Roanoke. It was the type of game that won him a place on the Mythical All-South Atlantic eleven in 1917.

* * *

House has been released from the hospital list and will probably start at guard tomorrow.

* * *

A large number of William and Mary students went to Hampton Friday to see Hampton and Newport News clash for the Peninsula title. The sentiment was about equally divided among the students. One would have thought that it was some big college game. The reason for such a display of interest is that William and Mary is essentially a Peninsula College. William and Mary needs the Peninsula support and the Peninsula needs hers.

* * *

There has been a great deal of dissatisfaction on the Peninsula because the Indian football schedule this year gave Newport News only one game. If tomorrow's gate receipts justify it, there is every indication that Newport News will get two games next year. Norfolk's attendance at the Wake Forest game was a big disappointment to the local officials.

* * *

Three Newport News boys will have a chance to "show off" before home folks—Todd, Charles and Jenkins.

And now we have the real definition of modern dancing. Dancing today is the "maximum of movement in the minimum of space."

—The Davidsonian.

FAMOUS HEIMAN-ALEXANDER SHIFT PASSES INTO HISTORY

With the passage of the rule requiring all linesmen to come to a dead stop before putting the ball into play, the National Rules Committee has relegated the Heisman-Alexander famous shift to the scrap pile. The rule states that, in addition to coming to a dead stop, linesmen must allow no part of their bodies to protrude beyond the line before the ball is snapped.

The Tech shift, originated by Heisman in 1916, was barely within the pale of legitimacy at that time. In this shift the center remained on the line with the ball, while the rest of the line dropped back about two yards; on the hike the line could shift to either side. Officials were never really certain as to whether or not the players were in motion, so simultaneously did the shift and the play go off.

It will be remembered that it was with this shift that Georgia Tech, in 1916, rolled up the largest score of the Eastern gridiron history. Each year, however, opposing elevens have found better means of meeting it, until the shift is no longer regarded as dangerous by the big coaches of the East. Time would soon have accomplished what the Rules Committee did with the stroke of the pen. The Heisman Shift and the Lock-step Formation were terrors in their day, and can hardly be expected to be forgotten soon. In fact, Centre rejuvenated the old Lock-step last Saturday against Harvard and gained more than 90 yards before the Crimson eleven could brace and stave off possible defeat. Modifications of these famous old shifts will be continuously cropping up and every good coach will have something ready for such an exigency.

quarter. William and Mary came in possession of the ball on the sixty-five-yard line. White completed a beautiful pass for thirty yards to Jordan. Cofer made another first down on two plunges over center and Cofer placed the pigskin over the goal in three terrific line bucks. Flanders again annexed the extra point.

Maroons Try Aerial Attack

Roanoke, realizing the futility of trying to gain against our forwards, attempted, during the entire second half, nearly every mode of aerial attack known to football, to no avail. The lads from Salem even attempted a weird split formation in which the line split, with a distance of more than ten yards between the two parts, the center passing the ball from the front to the quarterback, who passed it to any part of the field. Coach Ingram, however, had anticipated trick formations and had given the Indians thorough instructions in the proper method to break them up. Roanoke completed only four passes out of nineteen attempts.

THAT BONFIRE?

It is a question as to whether there was a bonfire last Saturday evening. We feel that there was a decided want of college spirit at this bonfire. The "Duc" aggregation numbered forty-five. Forty-five freshmen out of a class of two hundred men freshmen in College had enough college spirit to come to the bonfire last Saturday night. "Heniosity" is a compliment to pay to the "Ducs" who did not come to the celebration. Such lack of college spirit has never been in the history of the College as was manifested by the class of '26. This class has made history. It has set a precedent for all coming freshmen.

The only way by which the freshmen can redeem themselves in the eyes of the upper-classmen is for every freshman to be at Richmond on Thanksgiving Day. We believe that the "Ducs" have imbibed enough college spirit to be in Richmond on the great day of reckoning when the Indians will no doubt take the Spiders' measure. "Ducs," vindicate our high opinions of you. Let's go to Richmond!

OUR FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

With all due respects to our next two opponents on the gridiron, we feel that the athletic authorities failed to schedule games with the large colleges and universities with which we could no doubt have secured games. It seems that the College of William and Mary is coming to the front in athletics, and that our football team should be pitted against opposing teams that are representative of colleges of equal rank with William and Little interest is manifested in our football games. There is to be gained if we win from colleges, and there can be a deal lost if we happen to lose the fate of the gods.

We shall no doubt have a better football schedule next season. We believe the College and our team deserves a better schedule. We must have it and, of course, we will get it.

We are wondering whether or not William and Mary students will have new yells in Richmond on Thanksgiving Day. It must be possible for William and Mary to have some modern yells, some yells that are as modern as 1906. We would do well to discard some of our high school yells and get some college yells. New yells have been given to the cheer leaders, but they seem to think that the students cannot learn anything new at such an old College. We never get too old to learn.

GAME LAST SATURDAY

Our team showed the real fighting spirit last Saturday when it snatched victory from the Roanoke eleven. Although our team was out-weighted in every respect, the Maroons were no match for the Indians. The Roanokers lost all hope of winning after the first half, which ended with fourteen points for the home team. The Maroons resorted to aerial attacks throughout the second half, having learned by experience that they could not score any other way, but their efforts were fruitless.

The victory Saturday was a turning point in the Indians' career. Real football was displayed in this game. Supporters of this team were greatly encouraged. They feel that the Spider machine must succumb to the strong Indian eleven. The famous yell, "Come On Richmond," has been renewed this week with greater zeal and spirit.

THANKSGIVING GAME IS NEAR

The Thanksgiving game is drawing near. The football team is undergoing strenuous practices every day in order that the team will be able to conquer the Spider machine on Thanksgiving Day. The team is not over-confident of winning on this day, but the squad feels that victory will be with the Indians.

The student body must co-operate with the team in giving its loyal support. Our chances for snatching victory from the Spiders will be doubled, if the students will lend the old Indian team their support. Get ready to follow the team to Richmond on Thanksgiving Day. Every student must be there to cheer the Indians on to victory. Victory must be ours.

The alumni are preparing to meet the team in Richmond. They feel that the Indians are going to win the game over our old-time rivals. Meet the alumni there and they will help you cheer the big team on to victory. An Alumni Banquet will be held at Murphy's Hotel at 6 o'clock on Thanksgiving Day. Alumni, meet us in Richmond!

PLAN ORATORY FOR LAWYERS

Citizenship Bureau of Bar Association to Hold Contests in All Legal Schools of Country

A national oratorical contest for American law schools will be undertaken by the citizenship bureau of the American Bar Association, according to an announcement by R. E. L. Saner, of Dallas, chairman of the committee on American citizenship of the American Bar Association. The bureau was established in order to promote the contest.

"Activities of the bureau during the current collegiate year will be to conduct oratorical contests among American law schools to consist of the public discussion of prescribed subjects in the fields of American constitutional government and good citizenship," the chairman stated.

These contests will be organized by Dr. E. D. Shurter, of the University of Texas. Dr. Shurter, who is director-general of the Interscholastic League of America, will utilize the league in the interest of the citizenship bureau.

Hold Many Contests

A series of local, state, district, bi-district and national contests will be held, open to all undergraduates of any reputable American law school, which had a registration of fifty students during the preceding academic year.

At least four entrants must participate in a local contest to be held on Lincoln's birthday, Feb. 12. The winners in the local contests will go to a state contest to be held on the evening of Washington's birthday, Feb. 22. The winners in the state contest will then engage in one of the eight district contests to be held on the evening of Flag Day, April 14. Bi-district contests will be held on Patriotic Day, April 19, and the final national contest will occur at Washington on the evening of Memorial Day, May 30. These are the tentative plans outlined by Mr. Saner and Dr. Shurter.

Traveling expenses of the contestants will be pro-rated at the state, bi-district, and national contests and gold watches with a specially designed dial representing the American Bar Association, will be awarded to first and second honor men at the district contests. The first and second place winners in the national contests will be awarded cash prizes of $1,000 and $500, respectively.

Women Organize New Club

A club for women interested in swimming was organized Monday night. The aim of the club is to arouse interest in advanced swimming, to prepare candidates for the Red Cross Life Saving Tests, and to have intramural and possibly inter-collegiate meets and water sports.

The club is divided into four sections, A. B. C. and D. Requirements for D. group are the eligibility rules, ability to dive in and swim four lengths of the pool; C. group requires eight lengths, two strokes, plunge the length of the pool, one standard dive and the head carry; B. group requires sixteen lengths, three strokes, surface dive, all land breaks and the tired swimmers carry in lifesaving; and group A. requires the ability to pass the Red Cross Life Saving Tests.

The officers of the club are: President, Helen Lannigan; Vice-President, Nancy French; Secretary, Muriel Valentine. Misses Barksdale, Brown, and Wales were elected honorary members.

Any girls who can pass the eligibility rules is invited to be a member.

Vamp Stuff Is Eliminated By Coeds To Aid Athletics

Northwestern University Girls Not Going To Take Blame For Defeats on Football Field—Cake-Eater and Tea-Hound All Taboo By Fair Sex

So many Northwestern University athletes have muffed the ball when the vision of a favorite co-ed's fair features obscured the vision they should have had of the grid or diamond, and so many more have lost precious training sleep through late dancing and petting parties, that the college authorities are going to separate the Northwestern boys and girls just as strictly as was done in ancient Roman baths.

Blame for Northwestern's defeats of recent years has been hung right on the beautiful co-eds. Northwestern undergraduates admit their co-eds are beautiful, as well as distracting, thereby differing from young men in other colleges. Photographs that occasionally find their way into the newspapers confirm their view.

But no matter how beautiful the girls and how tall, handsome and Shiek-like the men, these are features of college life that cannot be held out to prospective entrants this year. Northwestern is out to regain its former glory on the field, and the pleasure of the individual will be subordinated to the interests of the university.

Life will be stern and earnest. Music, dancing, moonlight, love and ukeleles are being shown out the back gate of the campus. Petting, necking, mugging, puppy-snuggling, fussing or whatever it is, will be eliminated from the curriculum.

Such is the edict of the faculty, announced with great glee by the coaches, and welcomed with what is claimed to be the enthusiasm by the co-eds. Boys and girls alike will enter a Spartan regime and mold themselves to the standards set by old Lyncurgus.

Last June, when the agitation started, the girls held a mass-meeting and pledged themselves to remain aloof from the boys, and to hide their charms under a bushel basket or something. Far be it from them to be the Delilahs of the college Samsons or the Cleopatras of the college Antonys. Vamp stuff is out, and in its place when the girls return will go plain gowns, plain coiffures and lips and cheeks untouched by lipstick or rouge pot.

The girls have promised to hang to the ringing raspberry on the ears of the cake-eater and the lounge-lizard as well as the athletes, so that athletics won't be regarded as a punishment, and will go in much stronger for sports themselves.

"The regime will be strict from the beginning of the fall semester," Athletic Director Dana Evans declared. "We will naturally expect the candidates for our teams to renounce feminine society and to give the co-ed a wide berth.

"But the athletes will not be penalized. Neither will there be any place in the student community for the cake-eater and the tea-hound. Trust the undergraduates to put these specimens in their places. All I can say is that they will be frowned on.

"It is our aim this year not only to turn out crack football, baseball and track teams, but to bring about a general participation in athletics. Athletics already is compulsory in the freshmen and sophomore years. And we propose to have no division of interests—no longing for the fleshpots of Egypt."—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

BOLD LEADERSHIP IMPERATIVE

The initial proposal will need to be bolder even than that which on November 21, 1921, electrified the world. Europe is very sick. She needs heroic treatment to save her. Secretary Hughes has never lacked courage. We believe that the peoples of the world are ready to support a proposal that, conceived in even-handed justice and in the interest of all humanity, will lift Europe's problems at one stroke out of the mire of national selfishness into which they have fallen and put them where they must be discussed in the light of the permanent needs of the world.

Let President Harding know that America will support him in making this conference a success. Our civilization will be at stake.

—S. I. N. A.—

Seven hundred and forty men have matriculated for the 174th session of Washington and Lee. Of this number four hundred and fifty-one are old men and two hundred and ninety-one are new students. The number of men as divided among the several schools has not been computed.

—S. I. N. A.—

Lack of co-operation causes the death of The Terra Mariae, the year book of the University of Maryland. President Pollack stated that hardly a one had been put out since the schools at College Park and Baltimore were combined, that had paid for itself. The dilemma arises in that the student body at Baltimore is so scattered and shifting that it is practically impossible to work up any interest there in the book and consequently the editors have so far gotten comparatively little support from that larger part of the University. It has been suggested that a magazine be published every month containing the activities as they occur, and a nicely bound copy in the last month containing the graduates and other material incidental to the graduation exercises.

—S. I. N. A.—

More freshmen are perhaps called before the Freshman Council for not speaking than for any single cause. The reason for this is that the custom of speaking has become such a part of campus life, that failure to follow that custom is more quickly noticed than is a violation of other freshman rules.

If a freshman fails to speak to an upper-classman, he is called before the Freshman Council and punished for failure to obey a rule. On the other hand, an upper-classman speaks or not as he sees fit. We're glad to see that most of the old men speak but there are many who do not. It is a case of telling a freshman he must speak, while the older man may speak if he wishes.—Ring-Turn Phi.

Preliminaries For Contest Held

Professor E. G. Swem Addressed Society

Owing to the small attendance of freshmen at the meeting held last Saturday night, the Philomathean Literary Society postponed the preliminaries in oration, declamation, and reading until Saturday, November 18.

R. C. Francis chose as his subject in oration, "Woodrow Wilson, the Man"; E. M. Roesor, contestant in the oratorical contest, gave a declamation entitled "Our Mother"; C. Sheldon Davis read an essay of Edmond Vance Cooke.

Professors Blanton and Swem, acting judges, commented the men for their good work and made several suggestions which they thought would be of value to the men in the final contest. In his address, Professor Swem said that if the Societies would offer cash prizes in the final contest, they would be an incentive to the members, thereby making the competition among them more keener.

Professor Swem told the members that he is always glad to help them get any books which would be of assistance to them. In conclusion, he said "I hope that all the members of the Society will avail themselves of the opportunity which the library offers, to do research work in all lines, both literary and scientific. The material is there; it is up to you to make use of it."

GLEE CLUB OFFERED THREE CONCERT ENGAGEMENTS

CLUB ORGANIZES FOR SEASON

The newly organized College Glee Club held its third meeting on Thursday night, November 8, in the College Chapel.

It was announced that the Club had been offered three engagements for concerts in the near vicinity, which will be filled as soon as the Club is ready to give an entertainment.

Dr. Crawford, who is directing the singers, was highly pleased with the work of the men and complimented them for their good work. He requested that all men who have not yet joined the Glee Club, and can play a string instrument of any kind, will report to him at the next meeting. Men who can contribute an act or sketch appropriate to a glee club programme are also urged to see him.

At a business meeting held after the rehearsal, the members elected J. H. Binder, treasurer and business manager, by unanimous vote.

The meeting nights of the Glee Club are Tuesdays and Thursdays at seven o'clock. The last call for new members will be on November 21, when the enrollment will close and no one will be permitted to join unless he has special permission from Dr. Crawford.

INDIAN SPASMS

THE BONFIRE

By Shortfellow

Hung in a dull and leaden sky,
An autumn moon shone down
Upon a roaring, crackling blaze
With students gathered 'round—
No new sight to the chuckling moon
Thus hov'ring o'er that own.

For this was in the "Indian" Camp;
A victory had been won,
And gathered there to celebrate
They stood to watch the fun,
As through the gauntlet raced the "Ducs,"
A custom long begun.

There side by side in stern array,
The "Indian" warriors stood—(The war-paint had been well-be-smeared
E're they went for blood)—
Just now returned with beaucoup scalps
And, Oh! revenge was good;

Over the blaze the Freshmen jumped,
One after one they lined;
Urged on to greater, greater heights
By paddles from behind;
Their garments' hue exposed to view
In spite of wintry wind.

And yells and war-cries rent the air,
As 'round the fire they flew,
"Wah-hee!" they cried, and eke "Cannec!"
And then "Hal-la Ca-Noo!"
For they were joyous on that night—
No doubt as I and you.

Then to their teepees they retired,
The "Indian" maids and men,
To dream of Happy Hunting Grounds,
Of victories without end
Over their old-time Richmond foe

Radio To Be Installed In College Chapel

Come "Listen In" Next Week

Within the next few days the students who are interested in Radio will have the opportunity of "listening in" on the set now being installed in the Chapel.

Under the direction of Professor R. C. Young, the class in Radio has practically completed the installation of a fine receiving set. This set, which is of the Grebe type, was secured from the Times-Dispatch. It will receive its impulses from a two-wire antenna, 95 feet long, which is being placed on top of the Main Building. The set will be in the rear of the Chapel and will have a Magnovox attachment, so that it can be heard distinctly all over the Chapel.

Professor Young stated today that the set would be in operation several evenings each week with some member of the Radio class in attendance, so that all who care to do so may go to Chapel and "listen in."

A Serbian Herdsman's Contribution To Telephony

Conspicuous among hundreds of inventions which have brought America's telephone systems to their high development are those of Dr. Michael Idvorsky Pupin. They are highly scientific in character and based upon the wave transmission of sound and electricity.

Although for many years an American citizen by adoption, Michael Pupin was born in a village near Belgrade, Serbia. At the age of twelve he began summer vacation service with other boys as assistant to the guardians of the villagers' herd of oxen, and at the same time his studying in Nature's own laboratory of the wave transmission of sound.

Now, among the arts of the herdsmen in which the boys were trained, was the art of listening through the ground. A knife with a long wooden handle was stuck in the ground. One boy who was being trained would put his ear to the handle and listen, while another boy, thirty or forty yards away, would strike his knife similarly stuck in the ground. The first boy would have to tell the direction and guess the distance. This first lesson in wave transmission set young Pupin thinking. He soon observed, as herdsmen before him had, that sounds from the knife carry much farther through hard solid ground than through plowed ground.

The long nights of watching afforded much time for observing sounds and thinking about them. Thoughts started in the lad's mind on those Serbian plains continued to evolve as he went from the village school to the academy at Prague; when he ran away from the unbearable confinement of the academy, after the freedom of the plains, and came to America, and as he made his way through many difficulties to a higher education in the sciences in the universities and laboratories of America and Europe.

Finally those germs of thought bore fruit in many scientific discoveries and inventions having to do with wave transmission, especially of sound and electricity. Among these inventions was the Pupin "loading coil," which greatly advanced the possibilities of successful long-distance telephony. In the whole world today there are more than three-quarters of a million Pupin coils in use in telephone lines, of which 600,000 are in the United States.

sensation. Their stand in the Washington Conference was caused by their need of a navy to guard their widely scattered possessions and was not for aggressive purposes. "France is our natural friend. Let us keep our friendly relations with France."

Rev. P. W. Powell, of the Williamsburg Presbyterian Church, was the last speaker. He, too, spoke of the spirit of the French people and their love for us. He painted a vivid picture of their care for the graves of our dead, explaining the system by which each grave is cared for by a worthy French family. The words on the lips of these people as they stand beside the graves expresses their heart felt gratitude: "They died for us. What would have happened to us if they had not come!"
